Unless the Standard Oil Company of New York agrees immediately to make application to the city for a per- tials and let us save two or three mit or a franchise to pump oil through a five-inch pipe across Manhattan a five-inch pipe across Manhattan Island the Board of Estimate will take steps to have the pipe removed. It is claimed by John A. McCullom, Assistant Engineer of the Division of Franchises, that the Standard Oil Company is operating to-day under a very antiquated "privilege" granted by the Board of Alderman in 1877. Under the terms of 'this privilege, McCullom says, the company is compelled to pay only $159.60 a year for its pipe line through the heart of the city, and an additional $300 a year to the Dock Department for the piercing of the bulkhead at 39th Street, North River, where the pipe line enters this as a result of the double commenceality.

In view of the large amounts levied by the city for privileges that are insignificant in comparison to that granted the Standard Oil Company, it is likely that when the Estimate Board considers what the owners of the pipe line should pay in the future the small amount exacted during the past forty-four years will be taken into consideration. If this is done the Standard Oil Company will be heavily

Dr. Steinhardt pointed out that now a child enters the first grade at six, spends eight years in the elementary schools, four in high school and then four more in college. Thus the child is twenty-two years old before it is ready to fight its own battles or take up resilions. The pipe line in question runs to the Long Island works of the com-pany and is understood to be a di-rect feeder from Western oil wells ready to fight its own battles or take and reservoirs. After entering the city at the foot of 99th Street the pipe line runs through the New York Central yards to 65th Street and across town under that thoroughtere to the East River.

estigation of the Standard oil pipe line several months ago. He was recently asked by Mayor Hylan if he believed a leak in the pipe at the North River waterfront was respon-sible for the destruction by five of the Granite State. He replied that he did not care to express an offician's opinion, but added that pipe repairs were being made near the 99th Street bulknead about the time of the fire.

McCullom has also reported to Mayor Hylan that apparently no permit has been obtained from the city to the research tunnel connecting.

mit has been obtained from the city for the passenger tunnel connecting the Pennsylvania Hotel and the Pennsylvania Station.

"Meculion deserves great praise for the investigation he is making into city franchises and permits." Said Mayor Hylan. "Since he began this work on Feb. 11 an additional $200,000 in revenue has been collected by the city."

NOT TO TRY SHIP BOARD MEN Prosecution of Agents for Alleged Graft Is Dropped.

WASHINGTON, June 2.-The Department of Justice has abandoned its attempt to prosecute charges against agents and former agents of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for alleged graft in connection with the purchase of supplies for Shipping Board vessels. Nearly 166 such cases have been pending in the courts throughout the cour-

Announcement to that effect was made by Col.-Gu D. Goff, Special Assisht Attorney General and former gen-eral counsel for the Shipping Board who gave as reason the recent adverse decision of the Supreme Curt in the case of James H. Strang of Jackson ville, Fla. It was charged that Strang, as inspector for the Fieet Corpration signed and executed orders for repairs, alterations and recorded orders for repairs, alterations and recorded orders a shipping board vessel to a surn in which he was a co-outlier.

board vessel to a firm in which he was a co-partner.

The court held in this case that the mere employment of Strang as an in-spector or the Fleet Corporation did not make him an agent of the Government within the Criminal Code, which pro-hibits the employment by the Govern-ment of any person having connection with a corporation or association with which the Government transacts busi-ness.

one or two years. Spread the idea of the junior high schools in which the fundamental high school subjects are taught to the advanced grade school pupils. This would enable the great percentage of pupils who drop out after their first year in high school to be equipped far better for life than they are at present.

"The present uneconomical system cuts into our supply of teachers. More girls between sixteen and twenty-two are thinking of getting married and therefore are not able to give the proper attention to their pedagogical work. If they got out two years earlier it would be far better for all concerned. As it is, outsiders can become teachers in our schools long before our own students are qualified."
